Should I follow this road forever?

Many events
Have taken place in my life,
Some earth shattering,
Others comparatively small.
My world seems to have changed.
I've grown older, possibly wiser,
And certainly more experienced.

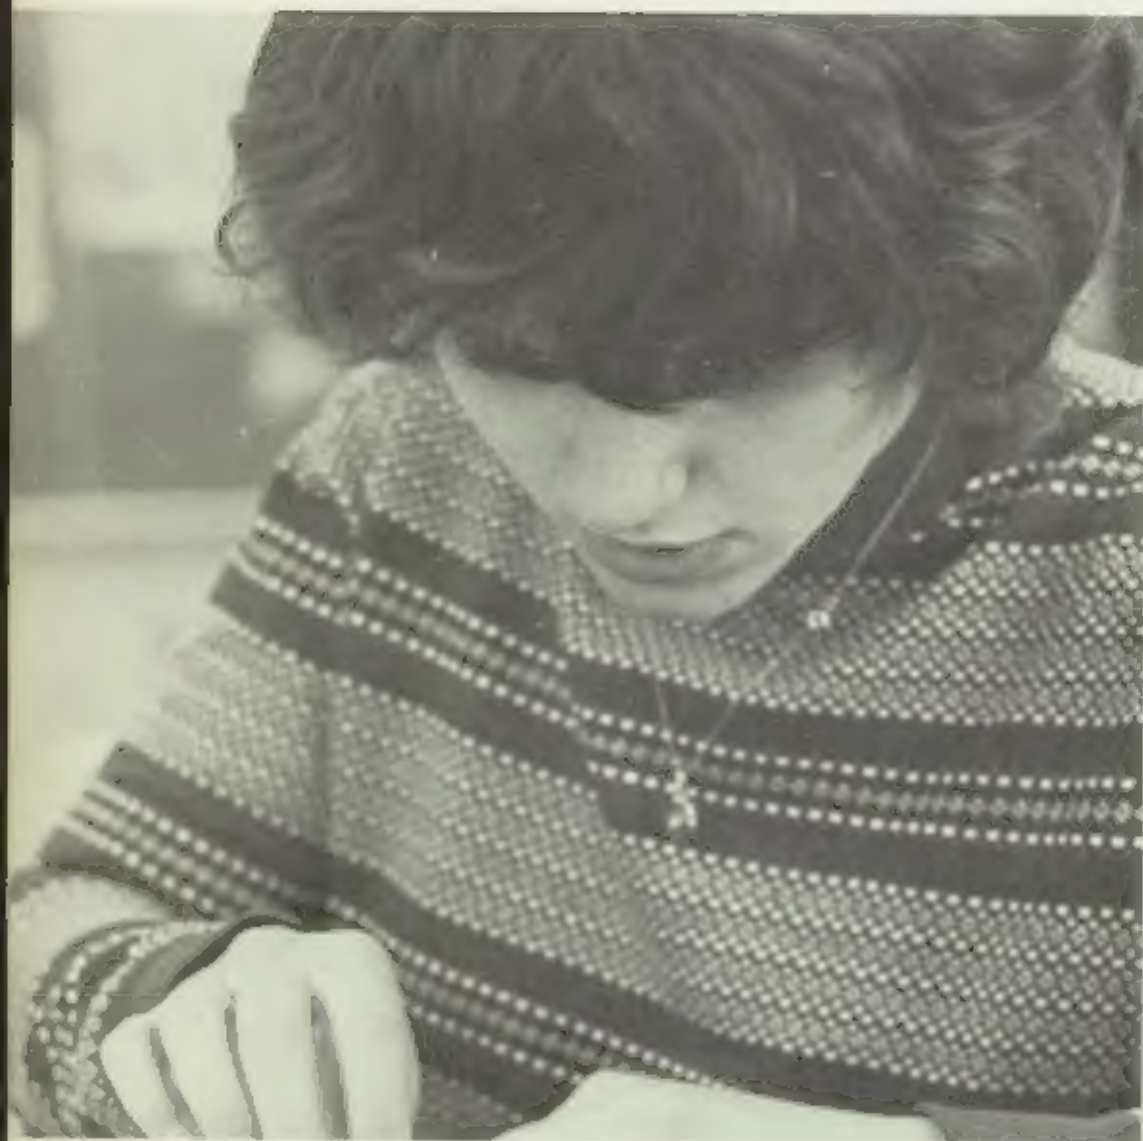

Mike,
lots of Luck
Carol
Thank you's"

A dream for tomorrow
Could become reality today.
A sudden change,
As swift and as unnoticeable
As a ray of sun.
Before your eyes
The world could change.
Keep your eyes open. •
Don't miss it!

senior prom

Looking forward to this for a long time

One of the last big events of my high school days

Staying out all night with someone you like

Dancing, eating, bowling, kite flying or whatever with someone you care for

A night to remember

It only comes once

I'll remember mine

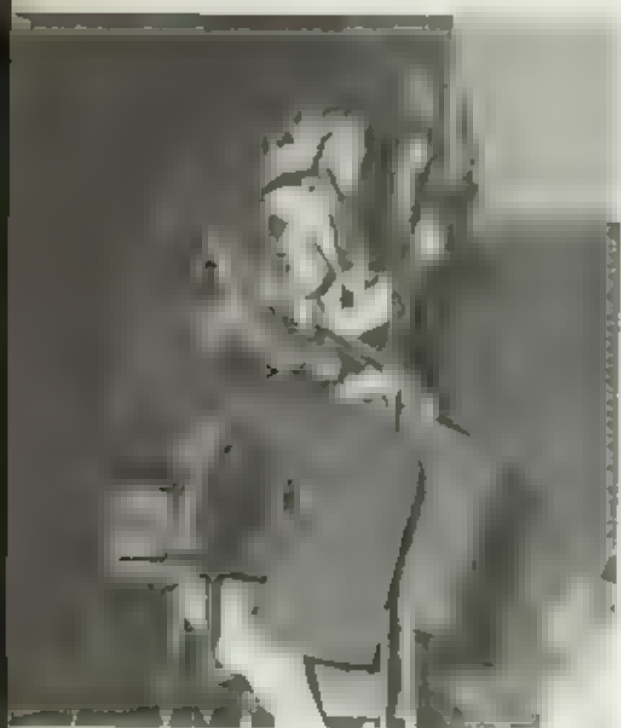

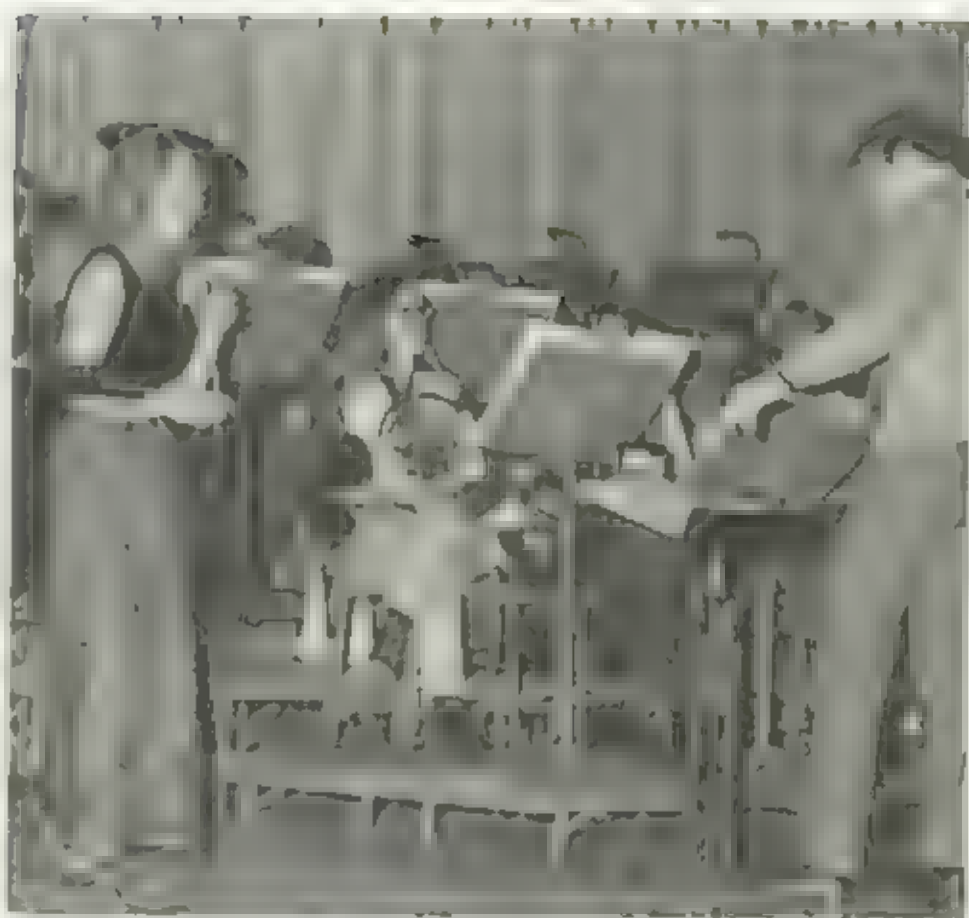

I know the world is torn by war
And that many hungry people
Would be happy with a loaf of bread
I've seen the poor and rundown parts
Of many thriving towns
I know the air is filthy
And the waters more than wet
I've heard that crime runs rampant
Through the cities and the towns
But somehow with all its faults
The world still looks inviting to me
I haven't lost my secret wish to live I'd like to hang around awhile
To view its beauty through the haze shenanigans takes a new look

do more than exist, live

One important portion of your life Flies by as if it matters not at all But grip these years
For they will never return,
And cannot be corrected
Be careful what you do today
Because yesterday cannot be altered

To Mike
 A very nice young man! much love in the future.

ALMA L. HILLMAN

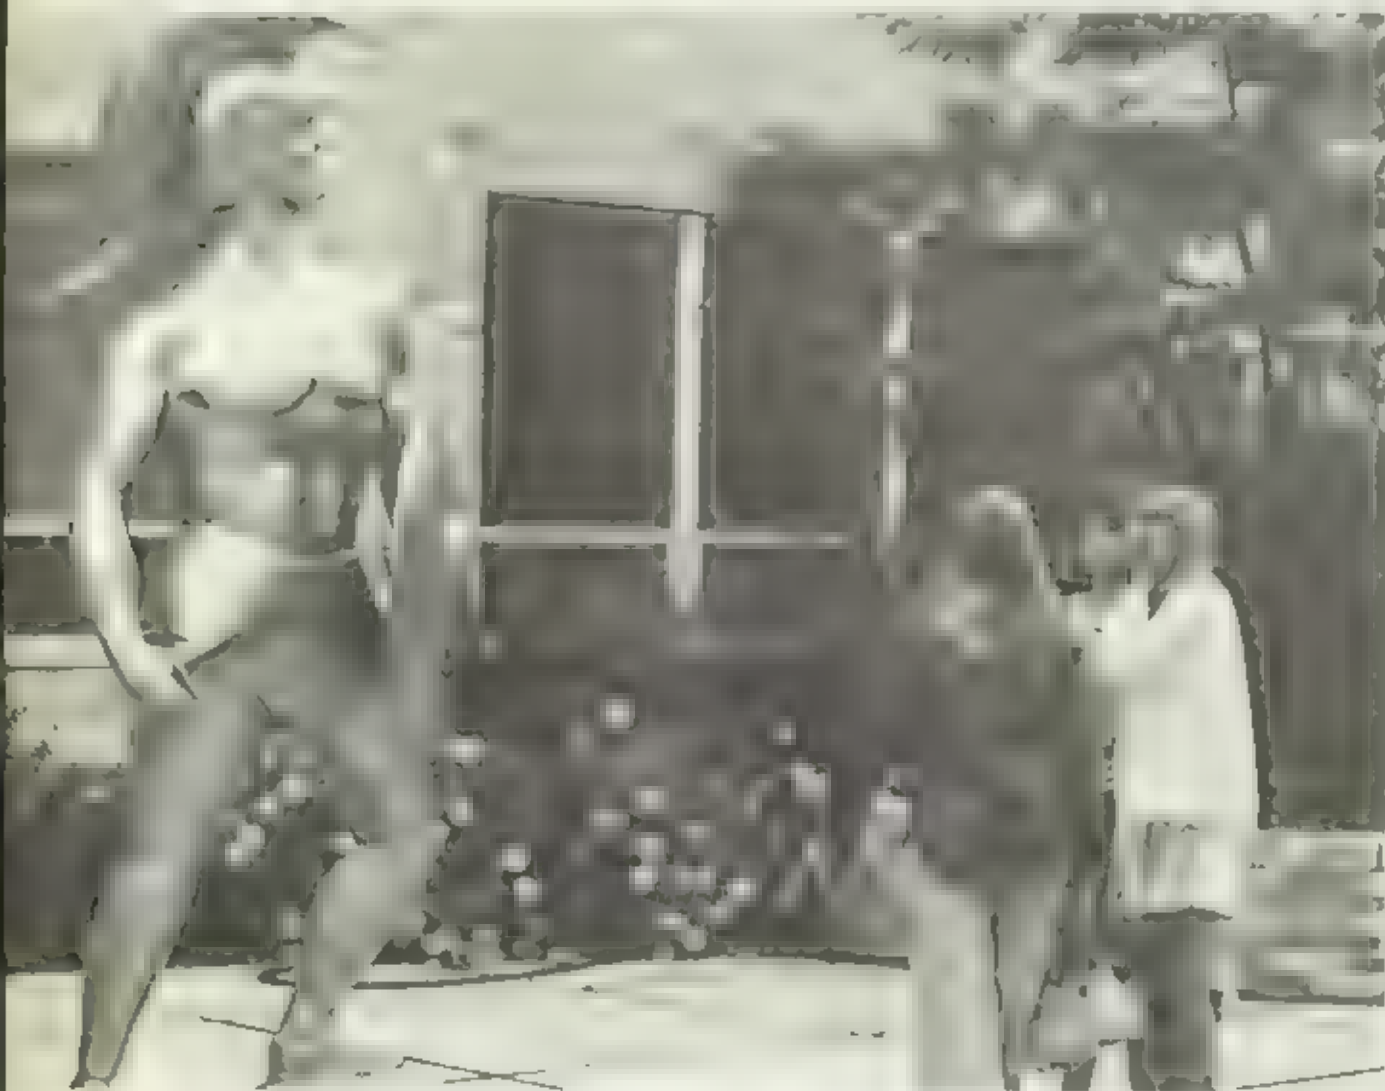

While walking down the hallways
I try to look beyond the visages I view
What are their problems?
Is joy felt within this soul?
Their emotions are so far below the surface
That I shall never know their true feelings Only the chosen are revealed

we must all come together

Rain falls
The sun sets
Summers turn cool
Life goes on,
Life changes
I know it's hard for you to change your way of life
But it's happening
Sooner or later
we must all come together
If you don't, there is no life for you no world for me

Four years have come and gone
Tonight is an important night
But I really don't feel that important Hundreds of others just like me
Are taking a big step in life
What lies ahead?

THE IRRATIONAL NET OF REALITY

Nothing was left, but bare ground
Like the continual loneliness in the labyrinth of sleep
Man is forever challenging the realm of his possibilities Sleep now, dream on Don't let the passionate jaws of chance catch you awake
For they enhance only the wonder of the imagination
And leave the deeds for others
The day is young, the past is forgotten
The canyons of life are yet to be explored
The mountains and valleys are awaiting you
The river flows deep in its bed, waiting for the ultimate trial
Of which we know not Awaken, man, awaken
See not the mist of dew upon the pane?
If not, will the web of reality hold you in its grasp?
Think on, young man, think on
—Fred Charpie

ALL WE NEED

Peace between people, on the earth,
Is all we'll ever need
No fighting, war, or even hate,
To keep all people apart
If this keeps up, at this rate,
They'll be no people left to hate!

I have wronged, and I am a prisoner with my own alarm
I can see, though I am afraid, I fear the love and the harm.

How can I live today in a world that will constantly stay and still, listen, listen for the things that are important to me While everything captures me, I can see and am aware there is a new day free

Will the things that held me back before now simply be my lore Should I find in myself what has always been there but express it well, is it fair Can I weep at my own misfortunes, and still hold on can I cry for my own children when they're soon gone can I dream, really dream, or would I master self
Will love mold my dreams
Will love mold my dreams

SHOOTING DREAMS

Where am I going?
What's in my head?
These are my thoughts
As I lie on my head

I dream of tomorrow
The day when I'll die
The time I won't have to Live with a lie

My soul walks on waves
It crawls through the earth
It searches the sun-skies
For a joyous rebirth

A rebirth of love
A new form of beauty
An ultimate peace
To grow up within me

So much for dreams
Just like leaves on the branches
They fall to the depths
In huge avalanches

Although I went 1 and 9
My share of proud moments were there My opponents knew they had just gone through a game
We went through Hell!
But, I always came back
Monday after Monday after Monday
Of the ten gridiron wars, I won one Within myself I won many more Dan Valasek was All-City, All-District,

cross country

The thrill of victory, the agony of defeat No one feels it more than the Cross Country runner Pushing day after day just to keep ahead
I must keep going, I can't give up
Was the cry of many of our runners
There is agony throughout but the result is Victory
The team finished fourth in the City Dan Ryan and Dave Mitchell led the team as co-captains With Dan receiving All-City honors

Picked to be tops, hearts were set, and minds were set forth

A loss here, then a loss there

A sincere disappointment to the coach, as well as the players and their fans

A quick loss in the tournament, and the fulfilled hearts were soon broken

A great group of seniors paid last tribute to Start High School

The team finished second in its division to Libbey

Craig Lynch captained the team as well as receiving

Another year of similar disappointment But in the back of their minds was the thought of playing on the varsity team next year

Striving day after day to accomplish a single goal—

That of winning

The goal of winning was never reached and in striving for this goal the team learned what the word unity meant

bowling

Patience and practice,
Concentration and skill
The bowler grows tense
While eyeing the alley
"Will I make a strike or fowl up the game with a gutter?"
He carries through slowly
And follows the ball's path
It's a strike! He's come through for the team

wrestling

Everyone expected a fantastic team
 But disappointment lingered
 After some team members quit Injuries also added to their problems
 Jim Steedman captured the district title
 And placed sixth in the state Dean Hoffman, another hopeful,
 Was eliminated from competition
 Because of an injury

tennis

The back and forth battle
A game of skill and swiftness
I am tired and sweaty
I want to go home and rest
But the challenge grabs me
And I'm trapped I must win!
The Most Valuable Player Trophy went to Doug McKimm, with Tom Rex receiving the Scholastic Award

track

A field of events
Each performs his own talent
Yet we are still a team
A fight with breath and tears
I've wondered if it is worth it And a first place convinced me it is Mike Rabideau won the Most Valuable Player With John Tetlow receiving the Scholastic Award

golf city champions

City Champions?!

What a surprise!

Maybe to the school, but not to the coach
All their determination came forth on one day
And revealed the pride that existed all season

Greg Kornowa received the ## realizing each other's purpose

To develop a trust Between student and teacher
 A mutual understanding Of each other's purpose—
 This would be
 The ultimate relationship

Have fun learning

using knowledge to progress

Knowledge—
 We cannot tell precisely
 When it is acquired, or why,
 Or how seemingly insignificant Concepts can become of value to our lives
 Only through this enlightenment
 Our mind expands
 And our dreams appear more realistic

A black and white photograph of a group of approximately 15 people, mostly men, standing in two rows. The group is posed for a formal portrait. In the back row, there are several men, some wearing hats. In the front row, there are more men, some in suits and others in more casual attire. The image is somewhat faded and has a grainy texture.

"How long have you had this problem?"

It all started when some wise guy said "Hey Kiddo, why don't you go pick some tomatoes, I'm hungry."

From then on, it was nothing except Freddie and the Migrant Workers.

Then the janitor said we didn't rate high enough to plant a pencil sharpener in the backroom. After six weeks of Mrs. Hypo, out of the blue came a chorus of Rhee-ee-e's and the chief was welcomed back with open arms. The year's greatest accomplishment was the new deadline motto: Better Never than Late, or No News is Good News.

A black and white photograph showing a large, dense crowd of people, primarily women, gathered outdoors. Many individuals are wearing light-colored, possibly white, clothing. The image is characterized by high contrast and a grainy, somewhat blurry quality, suggesting it might be a reproduction from a newspaper or an older film. The crowd appears to be looking towards the camera or a central point of interest.

Why am I here?
 Am I really needed?
 Or am I just one lost in the multitude?
 Who will point me straight and take my arm to make sure my steps don't falter?
 Whose shoulder should I cry on if the path becomes too narrow and crooked?
 And whose hands will help me climb that final mountain?
 Isn't there someone I can depend on?
 Someone who needs me too?
 Won't someone help me?
 Will you?

only the beginning

We are children of this world
 The future is ours
 To build and plan for
 As best we can
 In our own way
 Not that of bygone generations
 We each must make our own contributions Voice our ideas
 Strive to right what we believe is wrong
 And most important—believe in ourselves

extending my reach

I am your friend
Come take my hand,
And we can share many new experiences
Don't worry if you are scared, because I am here
We can help each other That's what they say friends are for So let's forget our worries,
Come take my hand
I am your friend

[Illegible text block containing names and possibly addresses or other identifying information for the students in the portraits.]

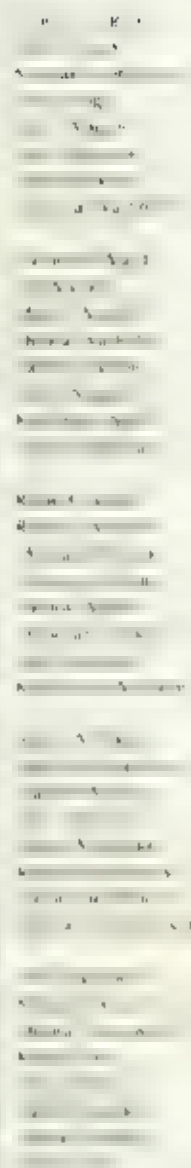

A grid of 80 black and white student portraits arranged in 10 rows and 8 columns. The portraits show students of various ages and ethnicities, likely from a mid-20th-century yearbook. The students are posed in a formal, head-and-shoulders style. The grid is organized into 10 horizontal rows, each containing 8 individual portraits. The students are dressed in typical mid-century attire, including sweaters, collared shirts, and dresses. The background of each portrait is a plain, light color. The overall layout is a clean, rectangular grid.

The following is a list of the names of the students whose portraits are shown in the grid above. The names are listed in the same order as the portraits, row by row, from left to right.

Handwritten notes in the top left corner, likely bleed-through from the reverse side of the page.

The cold wind is blowing hard on me
 I can see the ice around me
 I am almost freezing to death Huge glaciers are crowding into each other But wait, where is the sun?
 Yes, one ray of sun,
 Could melt this frozen jungle
 It could be yours

i am an island

They say join in and get involved
 For me it's not that simple
 I want to do my part
 But sometimes it's hard for me to express my ideas
 If given half the chance, as the saying goes I'd probably clam up and lock my mind
 As soon as I begin to feel relaxed I'll gladly do my share
 But until that time arrives
 I'll sit back and watch with awe
 As others run the show

no time to advise

I need help
 I can go to many people to seek it
 But I will only find a very small number who can help me
 They say, "I can't help you
 I have enough problems of my own, Please go away and don't bother me anymore!"
 No one has ever asked me for help
 Of course then,
 Maybe people don't think I'm qualified to give a helping hand
 Please try me

Sometimes I feel as though I travel in darkness Sunshine and blue skies are lurking somewhere
And I will continue to search Until the clouds of confusion part
And I am allowed to view the Light

Only when I fail to smile so other people see that I have another side
A serious side to me
They think I am a constant clown
Who laughs at sorrow
And scoffs at pain Little do they know of how
I cry myself to sleep
Or what it's like to want to frown
Or feel sad way down deep
I hope it doesn't shock them much When they learn that I just like many others Often feel the need to cry

The first part of the paper discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions, including sales, purchases, and expenses. It emphasizes the need for a systematic approach to record-keeping, such as using a ledger or accounting software, to ensure that all financial data is properly documented and organized. This section also highlights the benefits of regular reconciliation and auditing to identify any discrepancies or errors in the records.

The second part of the paper focuses on the various methods used to calculate and determine the cost of goods sold (COGS). It explains how COGS is calculated by subtracting the ending inventory from the beginning inventory and adding the cost of purchases during the period. The paper also discusses the different methods for valuing inventory, such as FIFO (First In, First Out) and LIFO (Last In, First Out), and how they can affect the calculation of COGS and the resulting financial statements.

The third part of the paper discusses the importance of proper documentation and record-keeping for tax purposes. It emphasizes the need to maintain accurate records of all transactions, including sales, purchases, and expenses, to support the calculation of taxable income and the payment of taxes. This section also highlights the benefits of using a systematic approach to record-keeping, such as using a ledger or accounting software, to ensure that all financial data is properly documented and organized.

The fourth part of the paper discusses the various methods used to calculate and determine the cost of goods sold (COGS). It explains how COGS is calculated by subtracting the ending inventory from the beginning inventory and adding the cost of purchases during the period. The paper also discusses the different methods for valuing inventory, such as FIFO (First In, First Out) and LIFO (Last In, First Out), and how they can affect the calculation of COGS and the resulting financial statements.

The fifth part of the paper discusses the importance of proper documentation and record-keeping for tax purposes. It emphasizes the need to maintain accurate records of all transactions, including sales, purchases, and expenses, to support the calculation of taxable income and the payment of taxes. This section also highlights the benefits of using a systematic approach to record-keeping, such as using a ledger or accounting software, to ensure that all financial data is properly documented and organized.

one phase of my life

A phase gone by More quickly than can be imagined
A phase complete

a reflection of the past

As I sit and watch the activities around me I remember times that were similar Things remind me of my past
Some happy, some hurting Some which I wish never were
But they all have their place And it wouldn't be the same if they weren't there

expanding my ideals

How can I be certain?
 Can I truly say I have accomplished all I wanted to these past years?
 Have I made the most of them or have I just let the time go by?
 But whatever I have done
 I know I have changed My ideals and beliefs have been touched by my life here

reviewing the past

When I look back at all that I've done
I wonder if it was really worth it Way down there at the bottom of the pit Everything was so dark and loathsome Then I looked up and saw a shaft of golden light that looked promising
So I began climbing
And now that I've reached the light
I look around at the familiar darkness
Not yet discouraged, I continue to climb

To all the living creatures of Roy C Start, we, the 1972 Shield staff, give to you with the utmost sincerity one more volume of your life, hoping that this yearbook will give to you as much pleasure as we received in creating it.

To my staff I ask that you accept my deepest thanks and my sincere wishes for the most brilliant and happy futures. No matter how hopeless the outcome seems, do not give up the ship, embryos cannot swim

Thank you again Fern, Lavern, Beatrice, Photo-man
#1, Photo-grease #2, Denise and her 2,200 pictures, Stuart's fiancée, youngest student of the lay-out table, the only Miss K left, Mike Life, L as in loser, Broadway Joe, Howard Hugh's finance director, Photo-dude #3, Kimberly and her new eyes, the callused finger tips of Sal, the bone-headed grease dripper of the lay-out table, Dug and weird Deb

Rick
